Please insert a high-level plan for the delivery of the change.
Section 6: Additional information relevant to the proposed service change
The Supply Point API service was introduced to provide technical data to customers to improve the change of supply process and improve data quality. Total Gas and Power have requested that changes be made in the categorisation of some data items in the Supply Point API, and expose new data via this mechanism to aid the switching process by having early insight into meter points that they have gained via the switching process.
There is a dependency on the Data Disclosure Request being approved for this change.
